

Call for Exemplary Paper Award Nominations

Journal of Teaching in Physical Education, Vol. 28 (2009)

The editors of the Journal of Teaching in Physical Education are seeking nominations for the

2009 Metzler–Freedman Exemplary Paper Award

Papers must have the following characteristics:

- Published in the original research section of the journal
- High level of scholarship
- High quality in each section of the paper (e.g., literature review, research design, findings, and discussion)
- Potential for a significant impact on the fields of physical education, teacher education, teaching, curriculum, or other related areas

Please e-mail your letters of nomination to Ron McBride at rmac@hlkn.tamu.edu by December 10, 2009. References for all nominated papers will be forwarded to the Award Committee members for review.